BAMBOO CABINET SYSTEM

LAURAMERONI
design . collection

System of custom made wardrobes with hinged doors in lacquered wood with carved channels and profiles of the Bamboo collection. The wardrobe is customizable in size, equipment, doors and interior finishes.

Bamboo wardrobes are characterized by a series of channels of different sizes that cross the surface of the panels and doors, creating an always different design.

The use of bars lacquered in different colors allows you to create an infinite number of combinations.

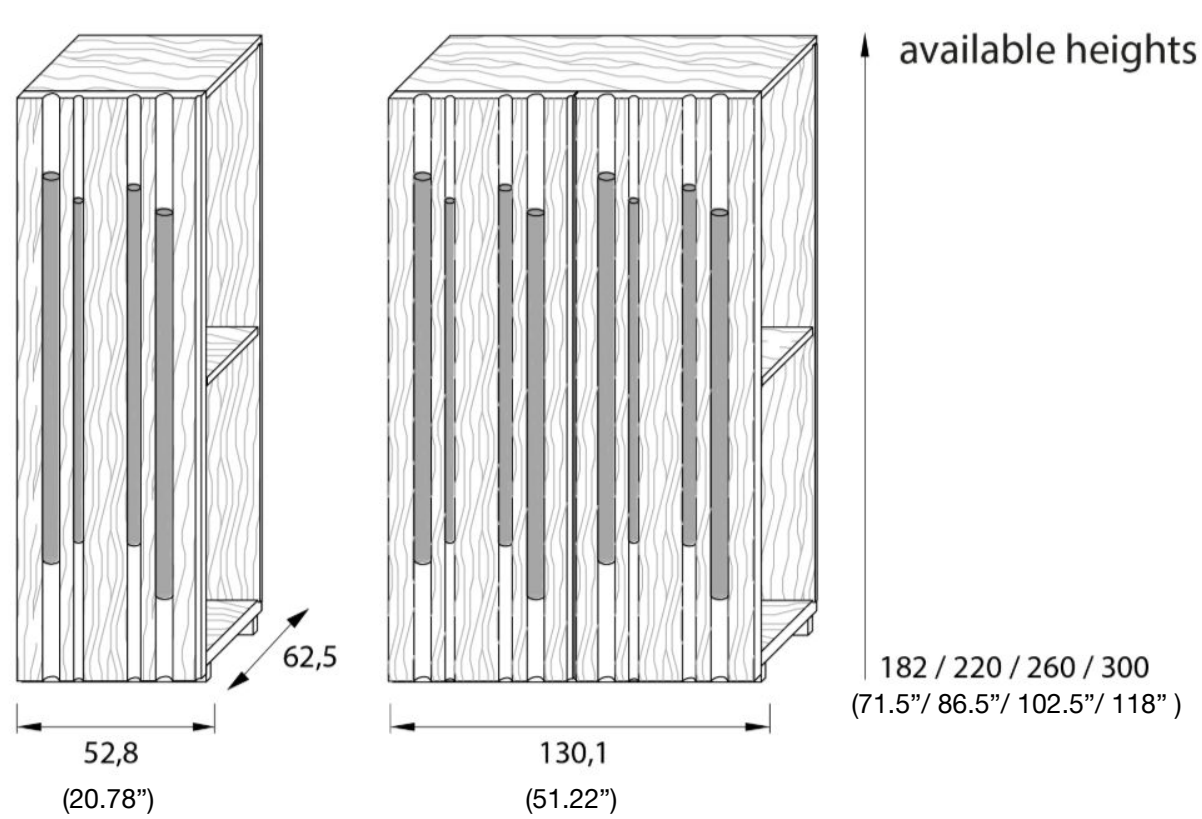

The distinctive element of Laurameroni Bamboo custom wardrobes is the possibility of being integrated into the doors and wall paneling system, thus obtaining a unique and different furnishing solution.

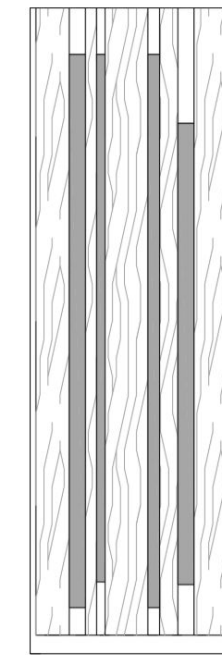

The Bamboo wardrobe can be aligned flush with the same wall paneling system obtaining a refined decorative continuity along the entire furnished wall. A series of channels of different sizes cross the surface of the panel allowing the creation of different compositions and color combinations.

The Bamboo collection has been designed for customers looking for a unique and immediately recognizable decoration thanks to its sequence of channels and bars that can be customized according to the project.
