MARGARET HIGH STOOL

LAURAMERONI
design . collection

Bar stool with structure in natural or lacquered wood and upholstered seat covered in leather, fabric or velvet.

This product is integrated into the Margaret collection of chairs, stools and benches. The sinuous line, the well-proportioned legs, a comfortable seat, the unusual detail of the wooden handle integrated into the backrest and the versatility of the collection, offer ideas for suggestive and functional use in both residential or public spaces.

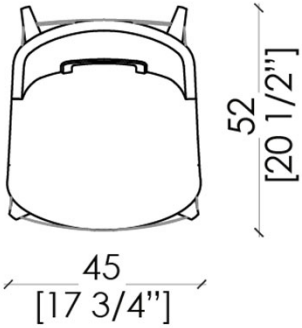

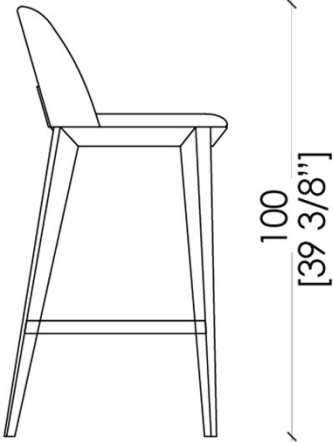

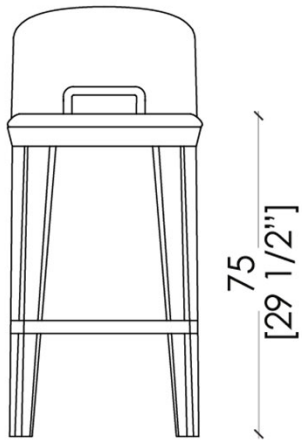

The Margaret stool has long thin legs that intersect with the structure of the seat and backrest harmonizing its proportions. An inviting and comfortable seat combined with the timeless elegance of the design that distinguishes it.

Every little detail is never left to chance. The intersection between the legs and the structure that houses the seat was designed to enhance the stylistic elegance of the design.

The soft padding and the footrest allow a comfortable seat to enjoy an aperitif with friends.

The ideal seat to enhance and make exclusive a counter of a lounge or a wine bar or simply a refined domestic kitchen.
