BAMBOO COLLECTION – BAMBOO ALTO

LAURAMERONI
design . collection

Cupboard entirely lacquered or veneered in wood with sequences of decorative channels that mark the surface and accentuate the distinguishing architectural design.

Both the container and the channels are available in all RAL colors. Only the container structure can also be veneered in all the wood essences in the collection.

Sideboard with a strong visual impact characterized by a series of canals of various sizes that cross the container and support it. The combination of the lacquering of the channels with the various finishes proposed for the container allows the creation of infinite color combinations.

The opening of the doors reveals the entirely lacquered interior of the container, equipped with glass and lacquered shelves, drawers and compartments of various sizes for storing items and memories.

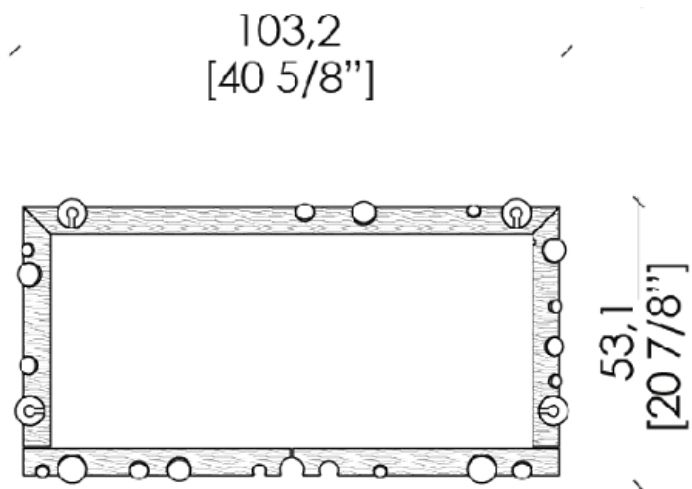

The lacquered channels run across the entire perimeter of the sideboard, enhancing its elegance and always guaranteeing a high standard of luxury visible from every perspective. The version with a plain lacquered back is provided for wall mounting.

The interior lighting accentuates the elegance of the lacquered interior of the sideboard, highlighting even the smallest details of the internal equipment such as the handles of the storage compartments or the reflected brightness of the glass shelves.

DIMENSION

The proportion of the dimensions and the highly customizable combination of finishes make the Bamboo high sideboard a furnishing element with a strong character and a unique look.
