CLIS PENDANT LAMP

LAURAMERONI
design . collection

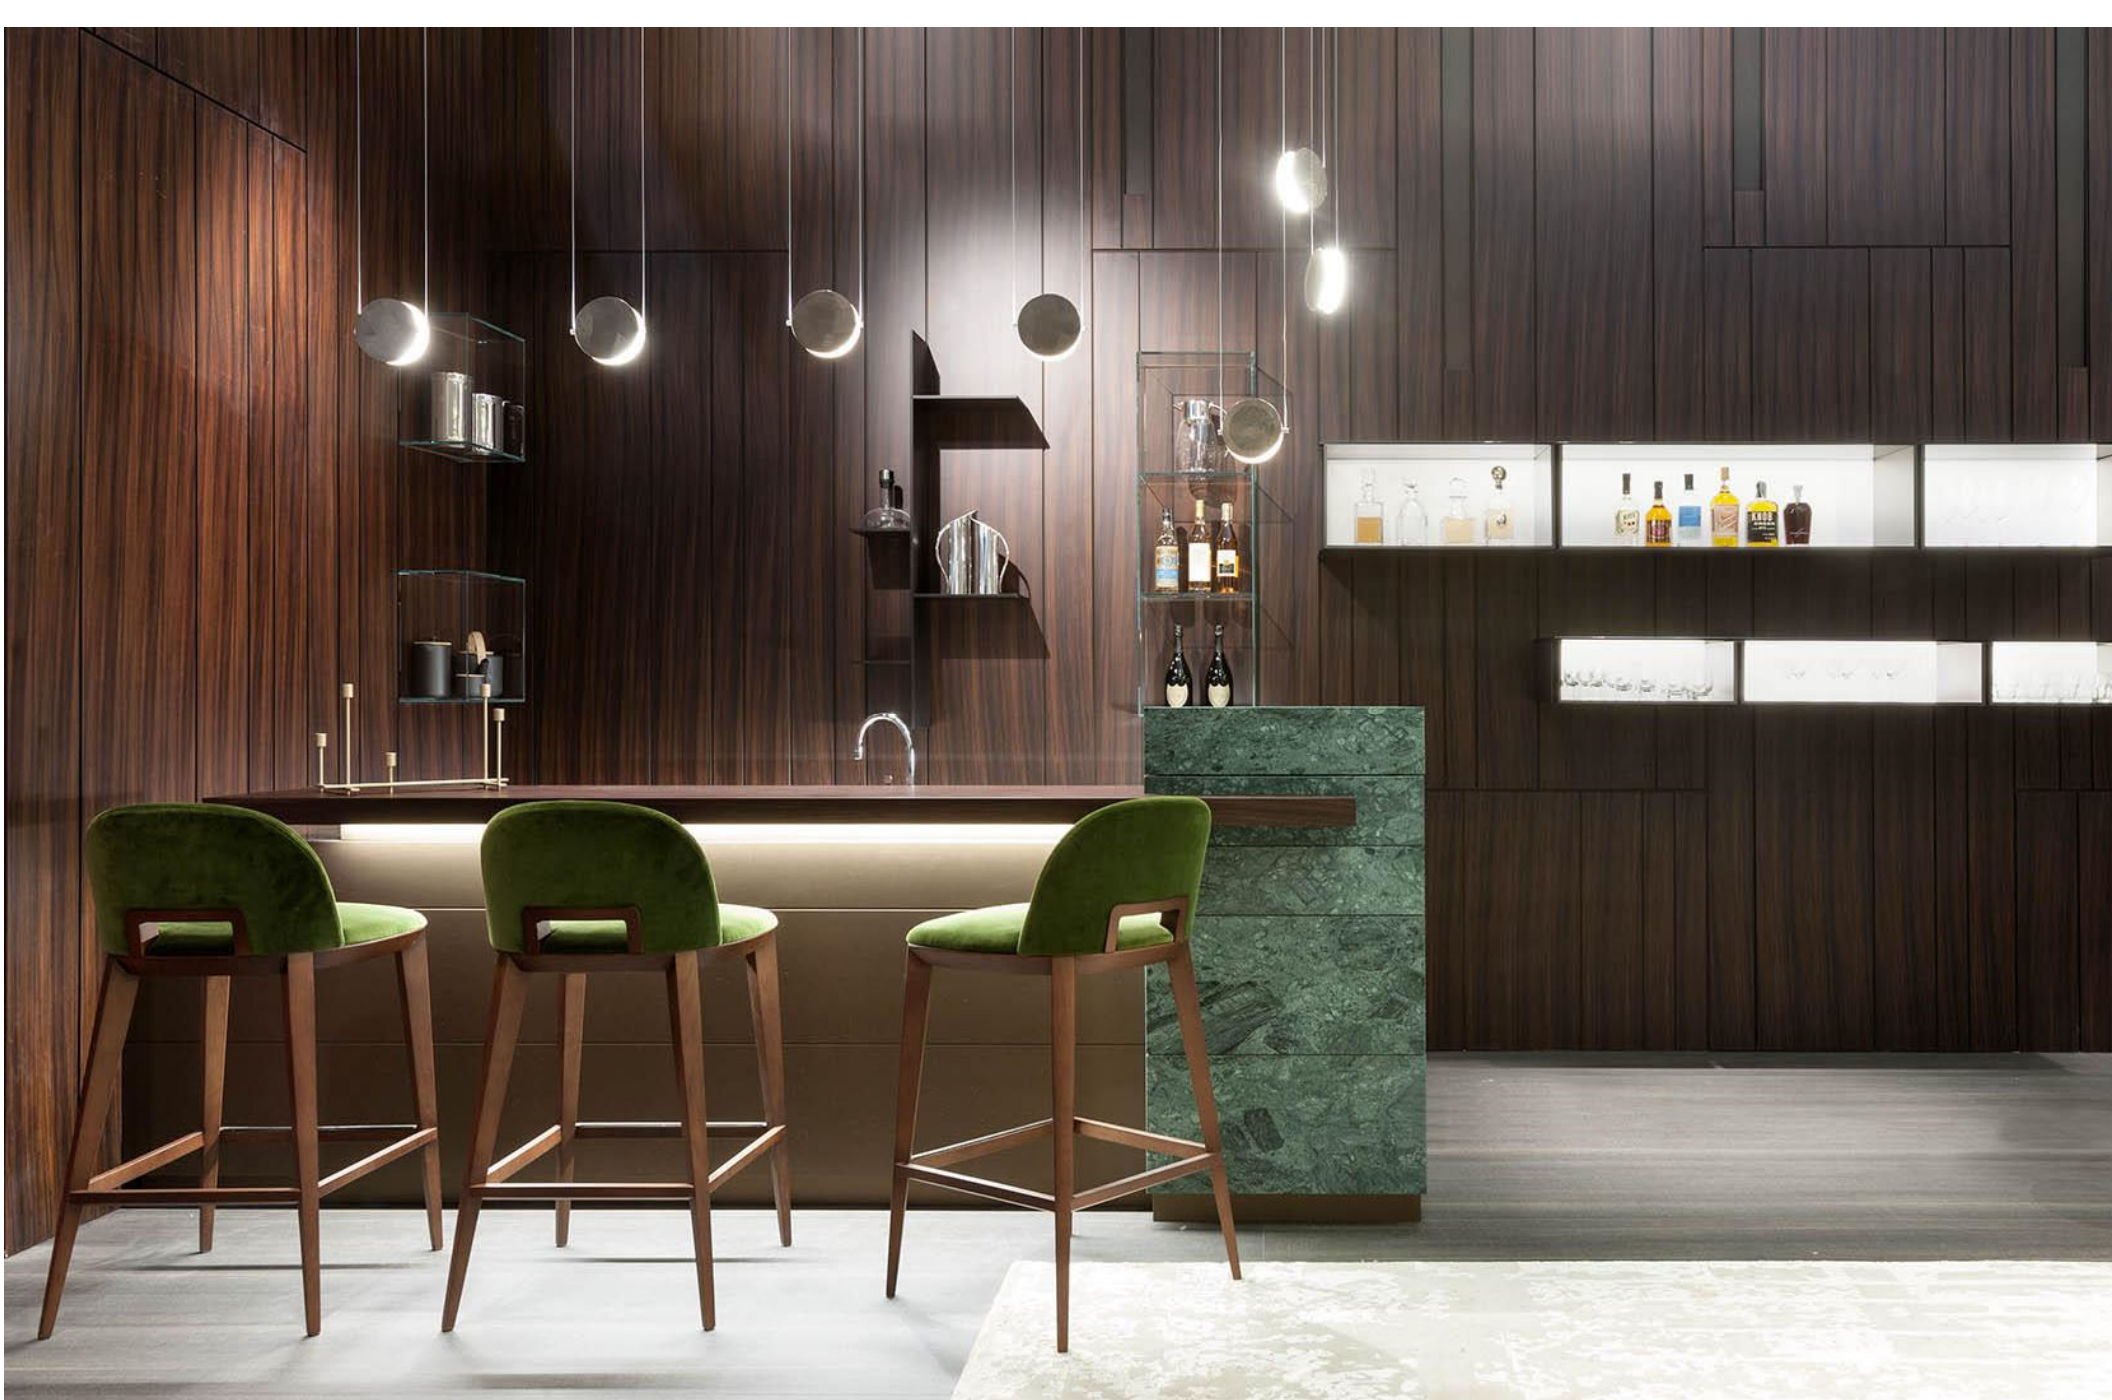

Suspension lamp with interchangeable magnetic disc-shaped covers.

CLIS is a system of minute disc-jewel lamps supported by thin cables. The possible configurations - single, in line, in groups, in cascade - leave ample possibilities for customization to obtain an original light source.

The interchangeable magnetic covers dress the product with bronze or brass, with textures or even precious polychrome marbles.

The spotlights are adjustable both on the vertical and horizontal axis to spread the light beam in the most effective way or to create decorative light effects.

The thin cables highlight the essential line of the lamp that transmits rigor and elegance even in the single version.

The material texture chosen for this version reflects the light in a delicate play of light.

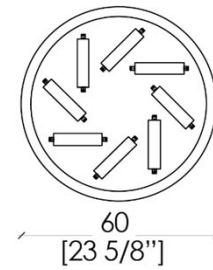

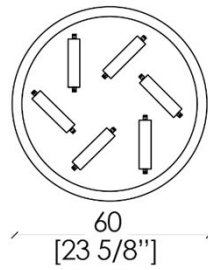

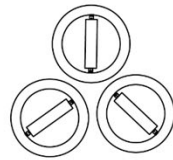

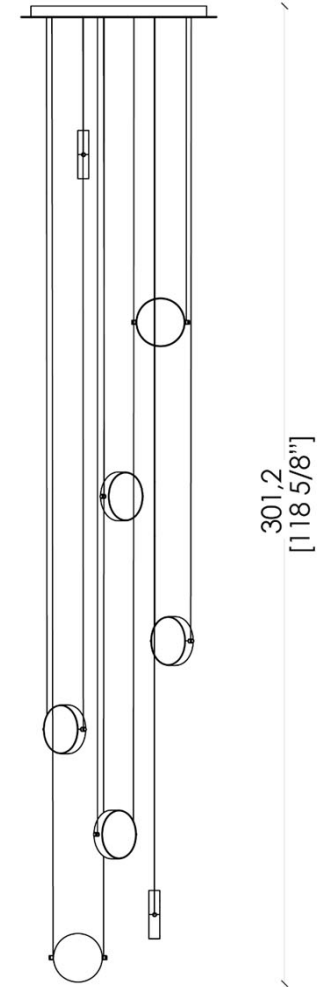

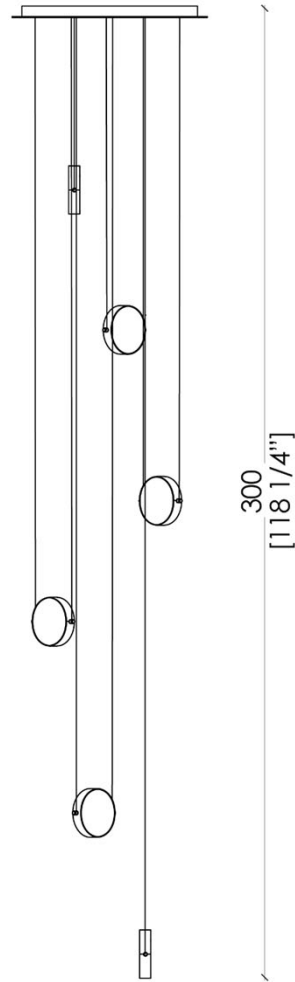

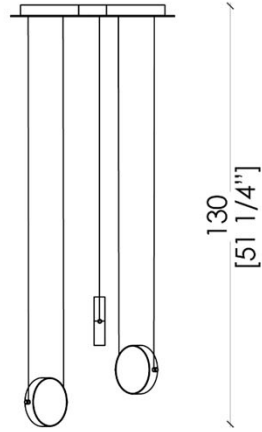

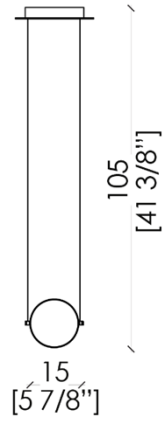

The brass version creates a sophisticated golden light effect.

The cascade configuration and the possibility of orienting the spotlights both on the vertical and horizontal axis creates unusual plays of light.

The complete range of magnetic covers and the possibility of easily interchanging them makes the CLIS lamp a highly customizable product.

CLIS lamps can be easily collocated in many different atmospheres thanks to their small size, gentle proportions and the infinite possibilities of configuration.
