MAYFAIR HANGING LAMP

LAURAMERONI
design . collection

The Mayfair hanging lamp is a truncated inverted cone made up of eight elements covered with goat parchment and burnished brass.

Eight LED strips illuminate the luminous body, while a spotlight hidden at the bottom lights directly the ground projection of the lamp.

The design of this lamp, with the unusual succession of bright and opaque parts organized in an "ordered" geometry, aims at reinterpreting the idea of "historic chandelier" in a contemporary way.

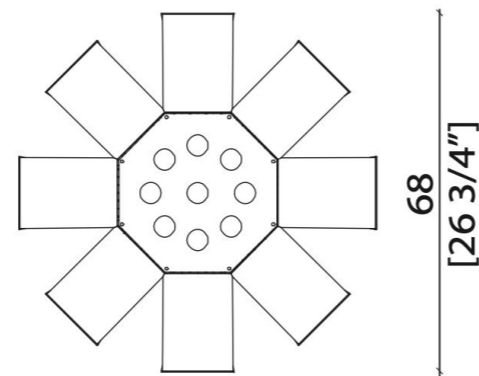

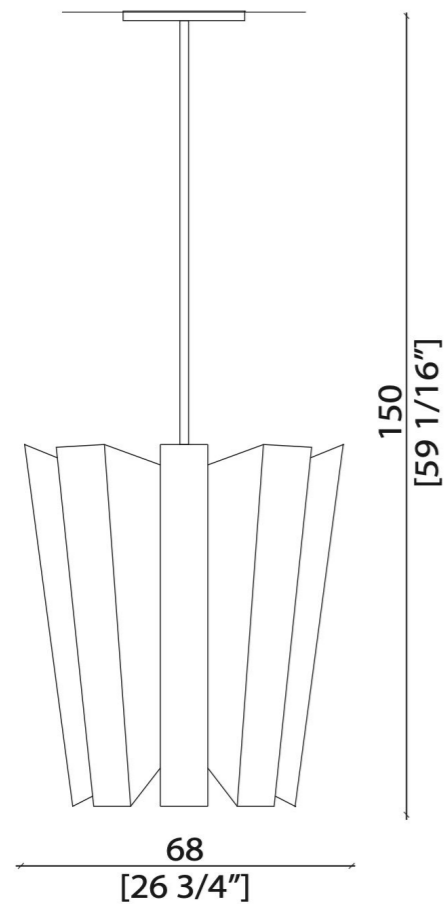

The combination of burnished brass and goat parchment creates a warm light designed for elegant environments.

The sophisticated design adapts to elegant wide environments for a space in which uniqueness prevails.

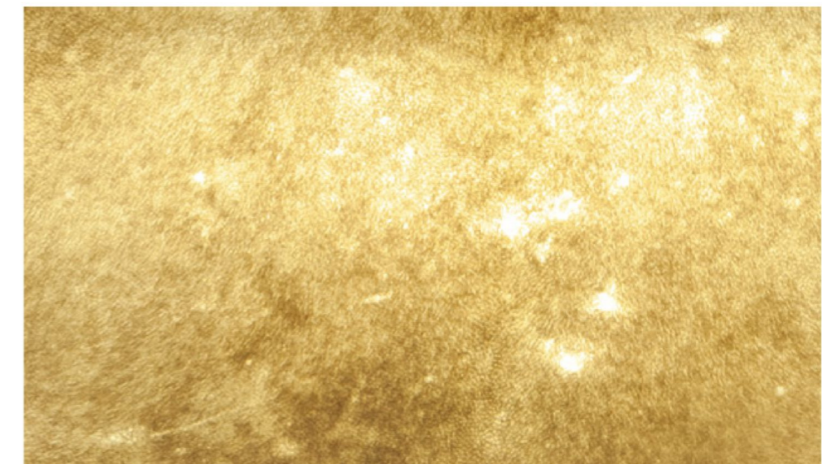

Eight LED strips light the luminous body while a spotlight illuminates directly the ground.
