NOVECENOTRENTA LAMP

LAURAMERONI
design . collection

The table lamp Novecentotrenta is composed by a diffuser covered with goat parchment and a metal base with four LED strips which illuminate the diffuser from inside.

This lamp is interpreted as a "small architecture" for tables, with a simple design and an articulated volume, a tribute to the artistic avant-gardes of the 1930s.

Novacentotrenta introduces the goatskin in our lighting collection for a unique table lamp.

This table lamp is a sculptural piece inspired by the avant gardes on the 1930s.

Novecentotrenta is characterized by a simple design and an articulated volumes distribution.

The diffuser, covered in goatskin, has LED strips which illuminate it from inside offering a warm light source.
