MARGARET STOOLFOOT

LAURAMERONI
design . collection

Pouf with structure in natural or lacquered wood and upholstered seat covered in leather, fabric or velvet.

This product is integrated into the Margaret collection of chairs, armchairs and stools. The sinuous lines and the thin legs that intersect with the angular structure of the seat or of the top create a contemporary and sophisticated style for the entire collection.

The entire Margaret collection adapts to residential and relationship spaces such as offices and hotels, offering guests a comfortable seat.

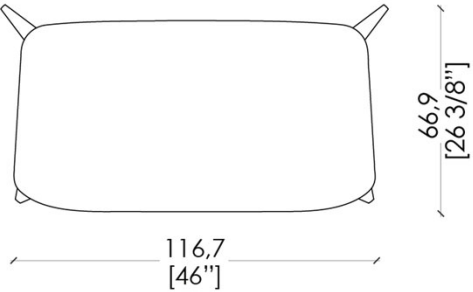

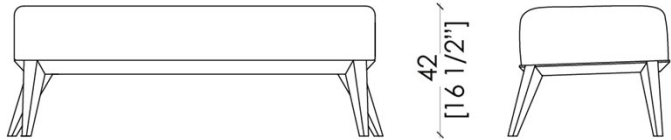

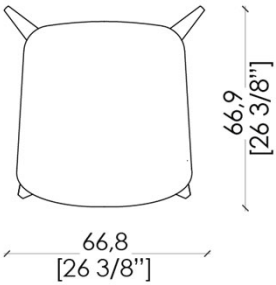

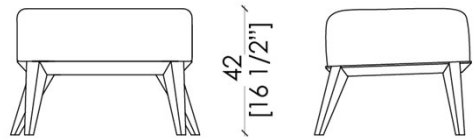

The proportion between the base that holds the supporting legs and the height of the cushion padding gives the pouf a harmonious and balanced line.

The great versatility of combining leather and seat fabrics with the lacquered wood of the structure offers new ideas to harmonize colors and materials.

The rounded shape of the pillow reveals the sinuous line that distinguishes the entire collection. The skill and passion of our artisans is also expressed through the care of every little detail such as the precise "tone on tone" stitching.
