BAMBOO SLIDING DOOR

LAURAMERONI
design . collection

Matt lacquered or wood veneered sliding door with channels on both sides and rail in polished chrome steel. Available in both the single leaf and double leaf models. It is available in all woods of the collection or matt lacquered in all RAL colors.

This sliding door is not only a functional object but rather a design element to reinterpret and decorate space, ideal for clients looking for innovative solutions.

Bamboo Door, similarly to the wall panels, has a series of channels of different sizes that cut across the surface, each time creating different designs.

The introduction of bars lacquered in a variety of colors makes it possible to create an endless number of combinations.
