B-Line/B-Frame Queen Door Collection

Queen door pantographed enhanced by a particular ashlar effect proposed in three versions. A decorative look that enrich with style the flush door minimalism.

Ashlars with classic taste are elements that define the style of this pantographed door, here it integrate all its class and modernity in a flush solution.

Elegant geometries break the linearity of walls and turn the door fronts into scenographic sections with one or more squares.

Each B-line model is available with the push or pull opening, both toward right or left, in order to maintain the flush to wall concepts and aesthetics.

B-Line doors are supplied with an aluminum frame with or without upper beam, in order to be painted, or lacquered, available for installation on brick wall or plasterboard.

This door can be incorporated into the Boiserie panel system in a wide variety of finish selections.

Door Queen is one of the pantographed solutions available in system with frame B-Frame. Ashlars define the division of the swing door traditionally in sections through three different ways adding decor charm to the frame.

Elegant geometries break the linearity of walls and turn the door fronts into scenographic sections with one or more squares.

The thin-thickness B-Frame jamb is available for both pull and push opening and is designed for installation on the traditional wooden false frame.

Adaptable to any wall thickness, thanks to the use of telescopic trims, it is the best compromise for those who prefer to combine the classic jamb with modern finishes, without necessarily having to modify the walls.
